

To-Do Before Final App Submission

1. Main Activity: Change “Settings” button to new user.
  - A. Link this “new user” button to the profile registration directly
  - B. Should we also ask users to enter their age here? (see the tester feedback)
2. New User Login
  - a. Add age as an EditText View somewhere in this activity
3. Add a child activity that will serve as a use example for when the child logs in.
4. Insert an “add family” button to ListviewMyFamily activity.
  - a. Change the conditional associated with shared preferences so that if anything other than Grandma Tata is entered the “add family” button disappears (to stop the kids from adding family).
5. Change all of the action bar titles so that they reflect the section that the user is in (not the activity label we are using behind the scenes)

Group 5: FamCam

Hi group, your app is coming along nicely, and most of the functionality seems to be there at this point. For the final version, please incorporate the comments below. We would also like to see two log-ins: One for a kid and one for grandma. We would like to see how your app changes depending on the age (again, see also the comments below).

In addition, the settings is the only location to register and add a family member, and we don't think that this makes a lot of sense. Please change for the final version.

There are also a few usability issues that the tester pointed out and that you should address adequately (these are comments from the beta tester):

"I didn't see a register so I just hit settings. But there's a button that tells me to register"

"Ah, so this is about connecting with your family! It wants to see my address book"

"I wonder if these avatars are intended to be photos, or if they are generated by the app?"

"There's a little glitch, it just says '...s Family' (we'll talk to you about this in class, because this seemed to have been fixed before.)"

My profile just takes me to grandma's profile instead of back to me (when not logged in as Grandma tata)

"I can only access my family and my profile, how do you now communicate with the family?"

Actionbar still says "SettingActivity etc. Try to use more descriptive names here.

"Shouldn't it ask me for my age if it's supposed to separate children from adults?"
"Would children have an email?"
